Duisburg Captured, Hannover Menaced

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, March 29 (AP)—British and American troops racing today through a wide break in German lines north of the Ruhr were reported menacing Hannover, 142 miles from Berlin, while First Army shock troops reached a point 207 miles southwest of the capital. Duisburg in the Ruhr ran up the white flag. All of Frankfurt-on-the-Main except the northern outskirts was captured by the Third Army, whose advance troops operating in echelon with the First Army moved eastward to within 214 miles of Berlin.

Hamborn, Weisbaden, Hanau, Aschaffenburg and the northern half of Mannheim fell to Gen. Eisenhower's victory-flushed armies ighting up to 145 miles deep in Germany.

The full extent of the advances in Westphalia was hidden by a security blackout, but AP Correspondent Ned Nordness said Muenster, Ohnabrueck and Hannover all weret hreatened by the sweeping gains outflanking the Ruhr to the north.

The nearest First Army approach to Berlin was at Amoeneburg, 85 miles beyond the Rhine and 255 from Russian sitge lines in the east. The First and Third armies scored andvances of 20 miles or more overnight, capturing the important Lahn river center of Marburg, without opposition.

The Seventh Army, fighting 38 miles east of the Rhine on a solid front with the Third and First armies, virtually encircled the last defenders of Mannheim by crossing the Neckar river near that chemical center. The Seventh also crossed the Main south of Aschaffenburg at points east of Schweinheim and Niedernberg.

American Ninth Army troops were the conquerors of Duisburg, which the German army had abandoned. The aged and very young of the Volkssturm, left behind as defenders, laid down their weapons and quit outright and the Rhine city hung out the white flag.

German lines everywhere were disintegrating swiftly. The cloaks of silence which Bradley and Montgomery imposed were hiding the full extent of triumphs.

Gen. Patton's Fourth Armored Division crashing along the Frankfurt-Leipzig superhighway advanced 19 miles in a day and reached Gruenberg, 21¹ miles from Berlin and 14 east of captured Giessen. One prong of the breakthrough division advanced eight

WESTERN FRONT—Allied might and armor rolled forward again today into the very heart of Germany. U. S. First Army tanks speared to within 207 miles of Berlin, and in places joined up with Gen. Patton's Third Army. Units of the Third were 214 miles from that capital and crashing along the Frankfurt-Leipzig superhighway. In the north, the U. S. Ninth entered Duisburg, while the British Second smashed still further toward Muenster.

Danube Drive Puts Reds on Austria Border

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—The Red Army, lancing through the shattered defenses of the Bratislava gap in the Danube valley, has reached places along the Austrian frontier, Moscow reported today.

Tanks and armored cars of Marshal Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian Army are smashing ahead.

"Whether the units which fought their way to the frontier planned to remain or whether these were scouting groups feeling out the strength of the much-heralded fortified zone is not known," said a dispatch from AP Correspondent Eddy Gilmore.

"There are no indications that these tanks and armored cars actually crossed the frontier into Austria."

The German communique announced a withdrawal north of the Danube to the Nitra river and a 25-mile advance by the Russians from the broken Hron river line.

This push in Slovakia, dovetailing with the assault below the great river of southeastern Europe, apparently placed the Russians near Nitra, 40 miles east of Bratislava, capital of the puppet government of Slovakia, and possibly 30 miles to the border of Moravia.

In the north the German communique announced evacuation of Kahlholz cape, their last toehold on the East Prussian mainland except north of Koenigsberg.

The Russians reached the center of Danzig, left alone by the fall of the rival Polish port of Gdynia nearby, and the Germans were giving up in large numbers in the city's main streets and squares.

Nazis Kill 2d 'Traitor' Mayor

NEW YORK, March 29 (INS)—The Nazi Transocean Agency said today that a "traitor" German mayor serving under the Allied military government in occupied Germany, Mayor Velten of Muetzenich, near Monschau, was killed by an explosion caused by "unknown perpetrators" in his home last night.

Another Berlin broadcast, reported from U. S. Ninth Air Force headquarters in Europe, said Oppenhof was shot on the order of a German court which had tried him in absentia on a charge of treason and imposed the death sentence because he "sullied German honor."

A Mannheim Nazi newspaper, quoted by Transocean, said Velten, a school teacher, had "put himself at the disposal of the Americans."

"This cowardly traitor, together with his whole family, got what they deserved," the paper said.

The shooting of Mayor Franz Oppenhof of Aachen by unidentified assailants in German aviators' uniforms was reported yesterday.

More Ryukyu Landings Near

By Associated Press

Japanese reported American transports moving into the central Ryukyu chain today where unprecedentedly large U. S. naval forces, rounding out a week of air and ship bombardments, left no doubt they were preparing another major invasion.

Tokyo radio said Okinawa, 325 miles south of Japan, was the major objective; that "20 to 30" transports were trying to reinforce U. S. troops already on the Kerama Islands, 15 miles to the west; and that American movements indicated landing attempts also against Okino Daito, nearly 250 miles southeast of Okinawa.

American commanders announced carrier and land-based planes hit 43 Jap ships and destroyed 38 planes.

Radio Tokyo reported American seaborne aircraft attacked Kure naval base on Honshu and ground installations on Kyushu Island today in the third consecutive day of air raids on southern Japan.

American infantrymen captured semi-destroyed Cebu, second laggest city in the Philippines, and 11 other near-by towns.

British forces reportedly broke Jap resistance in central Burma.

Nipponese commanders sent a column within 25 miles of the major U. S. air base in North China and reportedly rushed 300,000 Manchurian puppet soldiers into North Manchuria to meet a possible Russian invasion.

Gen. MacArthur said resistance in southern Luzon was "disconnected and sporadic," but still strong in the north.

Hitler Speech Reported Near

LONDON, March 29 (INS)—The London Evening Standard's Lisbon correspondent reported today Hitler would make an important speech during the next few days.

He was quoting high ranking Argentine diplomats reaching Lisbon aboard the exchange ship Drottningholm who have been in touch with diplomatic sources since their arrival.

These diplomats are certain the speech will be unusual and say that until now the Germans have been hoping Japan would sue for peace first, and thus leave the Wehrmacht in a position to say they did not lose the war, but were let down by their Allies.

Nazi Ships May Fight After Land War Ends

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—A naval authority said today German submarines and surface craft might fight on as long as six weeks after the land war ends in Europe.

Their supplies could last that long, the authority said.

Nazis Destroy Graf Zepplins

FRANKFURT-ON-THE-MAIN, Germany, March 29 (INS)—Destruction on Hitler's orders of the famous dirigible Graf Zeppelin and the larger and newer sister ship, Graf Zeppelin II, was revealed on entry of Americans into Frankfurt, home base of the airships.

The globe-girdling craft were blown up, along with their hangars here and Friedrichshafen after Hitler decided such ships were a "useless military encumbrance."

The action wiped out the life work of Dr. Hugo Eckener, 77-year-old Zeppelin pioneer. Dr. Eckener is living with a daughter near Bodenz.

The Zeppelin metals were melted down for military needs.

8th Repulses Nazi Thrust in Italy

ROME, March 29 (AP)—A German attack on Eighth Army positions near Cotignola, six miles north of the Bologna-Rimini highway stronghold of Faenza, was repulsed yesterday as the rest of the Italian front remained relatively quiet.

Cracking Up....

LONDON (AP)—The Moscow radio said today in a German-language broadcast that the crew of the German aircraft carrier Graf Zeppelin mutinied at an unnamed Baltic port against scuttling orders.

The Gestapo seized the crew and ship and took them to Kiel, the broadcast added.

Grand Adm. Doenitz, chief of the German navy, issued orders to the "crews of all German warships in the Baltic ports to scuttle their ships if they could not safely remove them," the Moscow report said.

It indicated mutinies had occurred in other Baltic ports before they were captured by the Russians.

The broadcast added that Doenitz' order gave authority to those of the crews who were members of the Heinrich Himmler SS to take over the command and dispose of the captains on mutinous ships.

ZURICH (AP)—Most leading Nazi officials have left their posts and retired to an Alpine hideout, the newspaper La Suisse reported today in a dispatch from the German frontier.

ZURICH (INS)—Residents of Hamburg, bomb-stricken German port, are speculating in air raid shelters as to whether the first Allied troops arriving there will be Russian or American or British, according to a Geneva newspaper.

LONDON (INS)—Hitler's own newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, has admitted, according to a dispatch to the London Evening News today, that unless the Allied armies in western Germany are stopped in the next few weeks the war is lost.

March Steals July Role in 86° Finale

March, the minx, gave Boston a flirtatious curtsy today and went into a delightful imitation of July, causing all birds in the environs to set up a symphony (the crows sang bass in a lovely manner, too), so that even her severest critics had to admit the girl has gold in her heart, once you get to know her.

All weather records went by the board. The high reading of 77 in 1910 was smashed before noon. G. Harold Noyes, government meteorologist threw caution and customary phraseology out the window. He said:

"We are on our way to busting records higher than a kite today. It wouldn't surprise me if we chalked up an 86."

Only unredeemable cynics wasted contemplation on the fact that exactly seven weeks ago, to the day, they had to fight their way through a virago of a blizzard that laid many low with chillblains.

For those who preferred to take their weather day by day, however, Miss March was nothing short of a meteorological pin-up girl. Nature unfolded gratefully in applause. Buds were straining to pop. Feathered folk ceased feathering their nests to chirp approval. Even worms poked through for a peep. And forsythia, forsooth, was anxiously trying to flower ere the day should end, particularly on its home grounds, the Forsythe Institute.

Only one untoward incident in all this benevolent manifestation was reported: a lamb, one of a large flock in North Abington, refused to gambol, taking the view the weather would probably revert to normal tomorrow, so why not wait until April? The other lambs put a hex on her and she immediately turned coal-black, fated to remain that way as a sheep forever after.

Meteorologist Noyes would not commit himself as to the weather scheduled for Easter Sunday, simply saying, "It isn't in the picture yet."

Friday will be fair but much cooler.

Donors Rally to Save 2 Boy Train Victims

Answering the urgent appeals of heartbroken parents whose requests were relayed to them by the Boston Evening American, detachments of soldiers, sailors and marines today promised scores of blood donors would report at City Hospital to help save the lives of two boys, victims of train accidents.

Similar promises that they would send blood volunteers came from the City of Boston Cab Ass'n, which has 1000 members, and from the Charlestown Y. M. C. A.

The victims are Kevin Morris, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Morris of Nelson st., Dorchester, and Richard McCallum, 11, son of Mrs. Mary McCallum of Pearl st., Charlestown.

The Morris boy had his foot amputated when struck by a freight train near the Norfolk st., Dorchester, bridge. The McCallum youngster had one of his legs cut off and the other mangled when hit by a train near the Dudley st., Roxbury, bridge.

Young McCallum, whose condition is critical, came out of the shock room at the hospital early today after spending 12 hours there. Dr. S. E. Steinman, hospital night executive, said he was weakened by loss of blood, and held little hope for his recovery. The condition of the Morris boy is somewhat better.

When informed of the youngsters' plight, Capt. Edward Granier of the First Service Command instructed officers of a detachment of soldiers at the Buckminster Hotel to read at roll call a request for volunteers. A similar procedure was followed at Ft. Banks, the Marine detachment base at the Charlestown Navy Yard, and at the Navy barracks there.

Walter Jordan, night manager of the Charlestown YMCA, posted a bulletin board notice there requesting volunteers, and Howard McOdrum of the City of Boston Cab Ass'n promised that his organization would send 200 volunteers to the hospital.

RICHARD McCALLUM

All donors are to report to the Dowling Building at City Hospital any time between 8 a. m. and 10 p. m.

The accident which befell the McCallum youth was a tragic ending to his numerous runaway escapades. Earlier this month, he, his brother Roy, 9, and two companions disappeared from their homes and were the object of a widespread hunt.

$500 Asked for Care Of Coolidge Cemetery

MONTPELIER, Vt., March 29 (AP)—Rep. Ann Wilcox has introduced a resolution in the House to have the state appropriate $500 to care for two years for the cemetery where Calvin Coolidge is buried in Plymouth.

Mrs. Wilcox said, in offering the resolution yesterday, that the cemetery was "tremendously neglected." She is a distant relative of the Coolidges.

Mrs. Florence Cilley, who is in charge of a trust fund already existing for the care of the village cemetery, said that the Coolidge grave looks as well as any other at this time of the year, and other Plymouth residents expressed the same opinion.

State Seizes 1st Load of Fowl

En route from Maine to a Boston poultry wholesaler, a truckload of approximately 9500 pounds of live chicken was seized today in Topsfield—first to be taken by State Police under emergency authority granted Tuesday by the Legislature to end a drastic shortage of fowl.

Escorted by State police and OPA agents, the truckload of fowl was driven on to Boston to a North End poultry firm where the chickens will be graded and allocated to State institutions and hospitals under direction of State Purchasing Agent George J. Murphy.

Accompany the truck from Topsfield were State Police Lts. John P. Sullivan and Andrew Trodden and Patrolman Arthur Chaisson and OPA Inspector Kenneth Frost.

Awaiting them at the poultry concern to which the truck was registered were State Police Lt. Joseph C. Crescio and Murphy, and immediate steps were taken to start distribution of the fowl to institutions which had been unable to obtain minimum requirements of chicken.

As the first seizure of poultry in the State was made, action from the New England congressional delegation was being awaited on a legislative resolution urging an increase in egg prices in a move to assist the poultry industry.

Meanwhile it was disclosed in federal court that complaints have been received by the OPA against almost every retail market in the state for violation of poultry ceiling prices. Samuel Winetsky, OPA enforcement attorney, made the disclosure while seeking injunctions against four kosher markets for alleged overcharges in the sale of fowl.

More than 200 cases of ceiling price violations in the sale of poultry are now being prepared for prosecution in federal court, OPA officials said.

Both Red, Blue Chips Buy Less

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Point costs go up Sunday for canned peas and asparagus, while at the same time the ration cost of sweet cherries, plums, prunes and tomato juice will be slashed.

These blue point program changes, announced by OPA today, will go into effect as housewives begin to pay more red points for pork and pork products, lard, shortening, margarine and salad and cooking oils. The red point increases range from one to three points a pound.

Prevailing point values on butter, beef, lamb and veal and most cheese will be maintained during April.

Ptas were given a new value of 30 points and asparagus 20 points in No. 2 cans. Both items are being hiked 10 points because supplies have been moving too rapidly, OPA said.

Movement of the three fruit products and tomato juice, on the other hand, has been behind schedule. This makes it possible, the agency explained, to cut values of No. 2½ cans of sweet cherries to 40 points, down 20, and plums and prunes to 20 points, down 10.

A 50 per cent cut in tomato juice values reduces No. 2 cans to 10 points, while 46-ounce containers go to 20 points.

Bowles said the 12 per cent cut in overall civilian meat supplies for the next three months "will be felt very little during April."

Examples of the revision of pork cut values are an advance of from 10 to 12 points a pound for center chops, and chops from 6 to 7, ham slices from 10 to 12, loin roasts from 7 to 8, bacon from 6 to 8. Sausages go up a point.

Margarine climbs to 8 points a pound from five as the result of an April allocation of 40,800,000 pounds, down about 11,000,000 pounds from March. Also because of a sizeable supply cut, lard, shortening and salad and cooking oils move from 4 to 6 points a pound.

One to two point increases were ordered for most sausage products, such as knackwurst, and for canned meats and many ready-to-eat meats.

Bowles estimated during April the civilian share of rationed meat would be about 880,000,000 pounds, compared with 896,000,000 pounds this month.

Beef, 358,280,000 pounds in April as compared with 349,040,000 pounds in March; veal, 70,200,000 pounds against 76,400,000; lamb and mutton, 46,470,000 pounds against 45,480,000; and pork, 405,070,000 pounds against 426,150,000.

Beginning in April varieties of cheese will be grouped in four categories instead of three as heretofore. This has necessitated some slight juggling of points values, but values on most kinds are unchanged, OPA said.

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—All babies' leather shoes will require ration stamps after May 1.

As OPA announced this today, the Office of Civilian Requirements disclosed that it is seeking production of 150,000,000 pairs of "good" fabric shoes with synthetic rubber soles for adults, to eke out dwindling supplies of leather footwear.

Manufacture at that annual rate, OCR Director William Y. Elliott said, would restore the two-pair-a-year standard which OPA dropped in December.

The action puts sizes 0 to 4—those generally worn by babies before they learn to walk—on the same ration basis as other leather shoes.

In discussing plans for fabric shoes, Elliott, who also is vice chairman of the War Production Board, said OCR would insist on standards of quality which would assure a serviceable, good-wearing product for outdoor use.

Hunt Explosives After Boy Is Hurt

NEWBURYPORT, March 29—Police today were searching the district for explosive missiles, following an explosion which seriously injured 8-year-old Richard Guiffrida in the yard of his home in Purchase st.

Four fingers on the boy's right hand were blown off and his right eye badly torn by the blast caused by his pounding a metal cylinder he had found with a stone.

Other cylinders were found on the boy and City Marshal James E. Sullivan said he believed they were primers for bursting charges.

Fruit Growers Fear Killing Frosts

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The weather has fruit growers and government food officials sitting on pins and needles over prospects for this year's fruit crop.

Under the influence of unusually warm weather the past two weeks fruit trees are in full bloom as far north as Kansas, southern Missouri, and along the Ohio river valley. Fruit buds are swelling as far northward as Michigan.

The weather bureau said this year's "remarkable advance" in vegetation has created general apprehension over possible frost damage to early fruit. It pointed out that killing frosts may be expected in an average year as late as April 30 in portions of the Ohio valley, Iowa and the central plains.

The bureau said that in general other vegetation is from two to three weeks early.

Legion Sets Parley On Postwar Jobs

WASHINGTON, March 29 (INS)—National Com. Edward N. Scheiberling announced that the American Legion will be host to outstanding leaders of industry, agriculture, labor, education, veterans' affairs and government at a major conference on maximum postwar employment in Washington, April 5 and 6.

He described the conference as an important forward step in the Legion's fight for jobs for all.

B. and M. Shows Deficit of $84,605

In its financial statement for February, the Boston & Maine railroad disclosed a deficit of $84,605,90 after contingent charges, with a net income of $124,173.46 after fixed charges.

Revenues of the road were $6,640,961.37, a decrease of $153,830.60, or 2.3 per cent below revenues of February, 1944. Operating expenses were up $114,621.33, or 2.1 per cent.

Holy Thursday Rites Draw Thousands

Thousands of Catholics in all churches received Holy Communion today in commemoration of the institution of the Blessed Sacrament by Jesus Christ at the Last Supper.

In many Episcopal churches, too, thousands more attended Holy Communion services and scheduled special Maundy Thursday services for tonight.

Archbishop Cushing was scheduled to preside at the solemn pontifical mass this morning at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross. Blessing of the oils used during the year, and a procession to the repository in St. St. Joseph's Altar in the main church featured the service. Similar processions were held in other churches.

Tonight, the tenebrae sermon at the Church of the Immaculate Conception will be preached by Rev. Henry P. Wennerberg, S. J.

At the Cathedral of St. Paul, Very Rev. Dr. Edwin J. van Etten will conclude his taks on the Passion story at noon speaking on "The Two Realms." Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill will be the noonday preacher at Trinity Church.

Tomorrow, Good Friday will be observed with discourses on the Three Hours' Agony, and the customary Tenebrae services. Very Rev. John J. Wright will preach the sermon at the Three Hours devotion at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross.

Vatican Press Replies to Reds

VATICAN CITY, March 29 (AP)—Osservatore Romano replying again to attacks on the Vatican in the Soviet press, asserted that Pope Pius had repeatedly and clearly expressed approval of just punishment for war criminals.

The newspaper added that the Pope condemned "the totalitarian and violent regimes even before they reached their most tremendous and conclusive experiment, considering them a violation of human rights and an offense against Divine law and the principles of the Gospel."

The publication called upon the Soviet press to produce evidence that the Pontiff had acted to the contrary.

CONCORD, N. H., March 29—Miss Nina Preston, 21, of Utica, N. Y., waitress at a local restaurant, was instantly killed and her two male companions were seriously injured when their car left the highway and crashed in Dumbarton rd., Bow.

At the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital in serious condition are Frederick Love, 20, of Maitland st., a Navy seaman home on leave, and Robert Foster, 27, of Hutchins st., both of Concord.

Mother Hears Conflicting Tales of Son's Luzon Death

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP)—Mrs. Louise Tonne, a widow, received a War Department telegram yesterday advising her that her son, PFC William, 37, medical corpsman, died on Luzon from snipers' bullets while trying to rescue a wounded comrade.

But Mrs. Tonne earlier had received a letter, signed by four of her fighting sons, telling her Bill's death was "as his life—kind and peaceful."

"Please have courage, mother," wrote Capt. August Tonne, 31, veteran of six invasions, who arrived in Luzon shortly before his brother's death. "Bill is with daddy. He just went to sleep and never woke up. He was so good; I'm sure he's gone straight to Heaven.

"Before Bill was wounded we discussed the danger of his work. Bill said, 'I'm in the medics? Remember the gospel? Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.' That's the way he felt about it, mom, and that's the way we must feel."

Marine Sgt. Alexander Tonne, 28, was at his brother's side when he died, and Corp. Robert, 29, arrived in time for funeral services. A fifth brother, Sgt. Jerome, 25, who was stationed in the same area with the Coast Guard, now is home on furlough.

Army Officer's Mother Held in $5100 Theft

Mrs. Gladys C. Hamilton, 51, Wadleigh ave., Revere, mother of an Army officer, today pleaded not guilty in Lynn court to a charge of stealing $5100 from the Bayside Flying Service, Inc., of Hooksett, N. H., an aviation firm of which her son is a director.

Judge Reeve ordered her held in $8000 bonds for hearing April 5 after Police Chief John T. Stuart of Saugus said Mrs. Hamilton confessed to stealing a larger amount than charged.

She was formerly bookkeeper for the corporation and her son, Charles, invested her with power of attorney when he entered the Army Air Transport Command, Stuart said.

Stuart said Mrs. Hamilton told him she took the money in various amounts and used it to cover losses at horse and dog tracks.

She was arrested by Saugus police upon complaint of four officers of the flying service. Her son was not in court today because he is on duty ferrying planes in the West.

Police suspicions were first aroused Saturday when Mrs. Hamilton reported she had lost $12,202 in cash while carrying it from a Lynn safe deposit box to the Saugus Trust Co. for deposit.

Checking with bank officials who keep a record of all visits made to their vaults, Chief Stuart said he learned of the many times she had been at the bank. He then contacted officers of the firm and arranged for a conference, he said.

Human Alphabet Saves Allied PWs From Bombs

By DON WHITEHEAD

WITH THE FIRST ARMY, March 29 (AP)—Quick-thinking American and British captives being herded from a German prisoner of war camp at Limburg saved themselves from a deadly attack by United States planes through a human alphabet maneuver reminiscent of between-halves formations by football cheering sections.

With Ninth Armored Division tanks roaring toward the ancient Cathedral City, the routed Germans tried to cram some 2000 of the Allied prisoners into box cars for a rush to the east. American fighter bombers, seeking out any moving rail stock, swooped in to bomb and strafe the train.

The Nazi guard fled. The prisoners broke open the doors, spilled into the field near-by and, as the American planes dived for the kill, hastily formed lines spelling out the letters PW, for prisoners of war.

The pilots veered away, but not before 14 men had been killed and 27 wounded.

How About Trip To Montreal?

The Office of Defense Transportation warns everybody that nothing but war traffic should be on America's rails these days.

Witness this advertisement in a Montreal paper:

"From LOUISIANA come these lucious strawberries, a real treat these days with fresh fruit being scarce."

And those strawberries from the United States sell for 49 cents a pint.

Along with the strawberries, Montrealers are offered the "finest, freshest and tenderest" turkeys at 47 and 45 cents a pound.

Still in keeping with the Easter tradition, the advertisement lists capons, roasting chickens, fryers and boiling fowls.

(News item: Massachusetts institutions are unable to buy poultry and the government is seizing such as are found en route to market.)

"Choice Easter hams, sugar cured, bone in," are going for 39 cents a pound in the Canadian metropolis.

Along with this, a wide variety of canned goods is in stock for Easter, according to the advertisement.

Would an Easter trip to Montreal be considered nonessential, Mr. ODT?

Newsprint Price Raised $3 Per Ton

WASHINGTON, March 29 (INS)—The Office of Price Administration announced today that manufacturers' ceiling prices for newsprint will be increased $3 per ton because of higher production costs for pulpwood.

The increase, effective today, will make the ceiling price $61 per ton for standard newsprint delivered to 38 "port cities." This is the third increase since March, 1942.

DANES FOIL NAZI PLANS

STOCKHOLM, March 29 (AP)—The Free Danish Press Service said today that Danish Patriots had blasted the bridge connecting Copenhagen with Amager island, blockading a "great number" of Danish ships requisitioned by the Germans to be sent to Baltic ports for evacuation of Nazi civilians and soldiers.

18 Hurt in Crash Of Charlestown Bus

Boston Elevated officials reported today that 18 passengers claimed injuries and 17 others were shaken up when an El bus and an oil truck were in collision at Cambridge and Crescent sts., Charlestown.

Police listed the bus operator as Patrick F. Galvin of Gilbert rd., Belmont, and the truck driver as Amie Lussier of Salem. None of the injured was hurt seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

Attack on Nisei Ex-Soldier Probed

MADERA, Cal., March 9 (AP)—FBI agents joined the police inquiry into a gunfire attack against the home of a recently discharged Japanese-American soldier.

Nazis Say Noble Held Prisoner

PFC Robert G. Noble of Linden st., Dorchester, reported missing in action Jan. 5 after the Battle of the Bulge, was captured by the Germans, according to a Nazi propaganda broadcast intercepted by American monitors.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ramond Noble, who said they had almost given him up for dead, disclosed today they had received the following telegram from the War Dept.

"Following enemy propaganda broadcast has been intercepted: 'Hello, Ma. How are you and Dad? I am all right and don't worry about me. Being treated fairly well. Say hello to Grandma and Grandpa for me . . . PFC Robert G. Noble.'"

3 Bandits Rob Cafe Bartender

ANDOVER, March 28—Three armed bandits early today held up Harvey Boivin, bartender at Kitty's roadside cafe on Route 28 in North Reading, forced him to reveal where the night's receipts were hidden and fled after seizing $60 from a cigar box behind the bar.

SLAV TOWN LIBERATED

NEW YORK, March 29 (INS)—Yugoslav troops have liberated the town of Bihac in northwest Yugoslavia after three days of fighting in the streets against "bitter enemy resistance," the new Yugoslav telegraph service said today.

STARS FOR GUARDSMEN

Adj. Gen. William J. Keville has authorized a silver star decoration for the ribbon on State Guard veterans of honorable service. Guardsmen will receive a silver star for the first three years of service and an additional star for each succeeding year.

MEXICO CRASH KILLS 20

MEXICO CITY, March 29 (AP)—The toll of fatalities resulting from a collision here Tuesday night between a crowded bus and a Diesel locomotive mounted to 20 today with the deaths of three more bus passengers.

EASTER SHOPPER—Clutching her box of Easter finery, Rita Manganello, 5, of Chesterton st., Roxbury, is homeward bound from the downtown shopping district where she was outfitted for the traditional Easter parade of styles.

If You Can Keep a Secret, Ma'am, You Can Be an IG

Now it's the IG who has been added to the feminine ranks backing up GI Joe—and no woman who can't keep a secret has a chance of getting into this organization.

The U. S. Army Signal Corps disclosed today that about 1900 girls and women have responded to its recent appeal for civilian office personnel to go to Arlington, Va., as Intelligence Girls.

And the door is still open, it was stated by Lts. Francis V. Brown and Todd Joseph, Signal Corps officers. They are at the U. S. Employment Service, Beacon st., interviewing applicants, who must be not younger than 17 years, six months, nor older than 45.

To be an IG, the Signal Corps emphasizes, the volunteer must have "unquestioned loyalty, high character, integrity — and above all, the ability to keep a secret."

The Signal Corps officers describe the need for qualified girls and women as "one of the most compelling and immediate problems connected with recent war developments, a problem which must be met now by every eligible person if equally successful future war developments are not to be imperiled."

The pay ranges from $1752 a year to $2190. The work week is 48 hours. Rooms are reserved in advance for accepted applicants and at "reasonable rates," the Corps assures, with inexpensive meals provided at a government cafeteria at the place of work, which is a 20-minute bus ride from Washington.

The IG's will have 26 days' leave a year, plus 15 days of sick leave.

They'll know a lot about inside of the the war effort. But they'll have to keep it dark.

Much-Married Conductor Faces Fourth Alienist Test

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29—Another psychiatrist was summoned to testify on the sanity of Francis Van Wie today after three had asserted the much-married but undivorced trolley conductor was normal mentally.

The 58-year-old subject, who police averred wed at least a dozen times, told the court he married so often "because I didn't want to hurt the ladies' feelings by telling them about other women."

Van Wie has been convicted on three bigamy counts. He pleaded innocent because of insanity.

One psychiatrist, Dr. E. W. Mullen of Agnew State Hospital, said Van Wie's "life pattern indicates instability, and there may be considerable of the hysterical element involved."

He added: "In general, I should catalog Mr. Van Wie as a constitutional psychopath who departs from the norm, but who may be called quite sane."

Strike Vote Boosts Lewis' Wage Battle

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—A thundering miners' vote to strike at his call today bolstered John L. Lewis' position in the deadlocked soft coal wage negotiations.

The present contract expires Saturday midnight, but the better than eight to one margin in favor of a strike does not necessarily mean Lewis will call one then.

Complete returns from the 90 areas polled by the National Labor Relations Board showed 208,718 "yes" votes and 25,156 "no." A total of 236,418 ballots were cast out of 311,281 eligible to vote. Challenges eliminated 1026, and 1518 were declared void.

There was no immediate explanation why the number eligible to vote fell nearly 90,000 short of previous estimates. The percentage voting was described by NLRB as "about average."

This was the question:

"Do you wish to permit an interruption of war production in wartime as a result of this dispute?"

Completion of the vote, biggest ever undertaken by the NLRB, cleared the way for Lewis to reply to Interior Secretary Ickes' request that the present contract be extended to May 1.

By Can-Opener?

MILWAUKEE, March 29 (AP)—The little boy in the bus with his mother was the center of attention as he tugged at a scarf, wrapped tightly around his head. He kept picking at the wrapping, finally removed it and unveiled a shiny aluminum pan clamped tightly to his head.

The mother gasped, glared at passengers and blurted: "Well, all right. It's stuck and we're going to a doctor to have it removed."

Gas Station Burglars Taken at Gunpoint

Captured at gunpoint by police, two 22-year-old youths were arrested on breaking and entering charges after they were found early today in a gasoline station in Friend st., Lynn.

Police went to the scene in a cruiser car after a neighbor reported she had heard glass smashing and had seen two men in the station. The arresting officers said they found 3000 gasoline ration coupons stacked on top of 12 tires inside the station.

The youths, booked as Leroy Lynch, of Rothway st., and Paul L. Paige, of Essex cir., both of Lynn, faced arraignment in Lynn court today.

Epes Faces Trial In Wife Murder

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 29 (INS)—Lt. Samuel C. Epes, 29, was held for trial in connection with the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary Lee Williams Epes, after a coroner's jury found that he had given her fatal sedative tablets Jan. 27.

Lt. Samuel Epes

Mrs. Epes was found buried in a foxhole Feb. 14 in the Browns Chapel area of Fort Jackson. She had left her post as school teacher in Jacksonville, Fla., to be with her husband at Fort Jackson.

Lt. Epes, member of a prominent Richmond, Va., family has denied he murdered his wife and has told police he administered the sedative tablets to relieve his wife's illness.

Coroner William A. Plott called eight witnesses, principally law enforcement officers and physicians. He also read two statements made by Lt. Epes in which the latter denied the murder and said the tablets had been prescribed for his wife.

Westinghouse Plans New Jet Engine Unit

PHILADELPHIA, March 29 (AP)—Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. announced today the formation of a special division here to manufacture a gas turbine engine for Navy combat aircraft.

The engine, based on the "jet engine" already developed by Westinghouse for the Navy, will be smaller, more compact and more efficient, Vice-President L. E. Osborne said.

SLICK CHICKS

in multitudinous numbers they've been bubbling into Filene's Basement the past few days getting new Easter togs. You can take it from here, there are going to be some p-r-e-t-t-y SLICK CHICKS in that Easter Parade next Sunday. Youth has its own ideas about things 'n' stuff, especially "duds" (clothes to you) and if you have an embryo Betty Hutton or a budding Jack Dempsey in your domicile, you probably know exactly what we mean. But leave it to a store like Filene's Basement that's been catering to youth for generations to know about these youthful fashion whims. When you sell millions of pieces of boys' and girls' clothing annually it's pretty good proof that when youngsters want loafer jackets and slacks, boleros and Eton caps, sport shirts, rain and shine coats, pinafores and such, this unique store will have them. Whether you have but one SLICK CHICK or a whole brood—8, 9, 10 or as many as 13 or more (folks with large families tell us constantly, "We can't get along without Filene's Basement," and being partial to large families ourselves, we reverse this wholehearted endorsement by saying we should hate to have to get along without you—we've built our business to cater to big numbers—the more the merrier) right this minute you'll find 18 big sections perpetually devoted to youth, overflowing with new Easter fashions punctuated with youthfulness, verve and spice—and with sparkling low prices that make this youths' headquarters not only at Easter time, but for 52 weeks throughout the year!

This shoe comes in Brown or Black leather and is a Goodyear welted model. It is one of a fine array of Easter fashions that mean comfortable walking from the start and long wear.

Rankin Files Liberalized Veterans' Insurance Bill

By DAN MARKEL
Boston Evening American
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 29—Thousands of men in the Armed forces and more than a million World War II veterans will benefit if legislation to expand the National Life Insurance Act, introduced by John E. Rankin (D.), of Mississippi is enacted, American Legion officials said today.

Veterans who have let their government policies lapse would be given 36 months to reinstate them upon a showing that their health is as good as when they halted premium payments. This privilege is limited now to only six months, after which the veteran must pass a medical examination.

Nearly two million men have been discharged from the armed forces during the present war but only 300,000 have kept up their insurance, according to Veterans Administration officials. The American Legion is conducting a nationwide campaign to encourage reinstatement.

Rankin's bill also would extend insurance protection to soldiers, sailors and marines who neglected to take our policies within the 120-day period after entering service when they could do so without passing medical examinations.

Under the Rankin bill any person would be entitled to insurance if certified to be performing military duty.

Automatic insurance protection amounting to $10,000 would be given under the Rankin Bill to any man who died in active service within 120 days after entering the armed forces. This protection would be provided in full if the man had no national service life insurance at all and, if he had a smaller policy than $10,000, would bring the total protection up to that amount.

Similar protection also would be provided men totally disabled during their first 120 days of service in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps, and to men captured, besieged or isolated by enemies.

Previous automatic insurance provisions were limited to $5000 and required that if parents were listed as beneficiaries they show dependency. The new bill would remove dependency requirements.

Pope Tells Rep. Luce U.S. Women Can Help

Boston American, Mar. 29—7

VATICAN CITY, March 29 (AP)—Pope Pius XII told Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R.) of Connecticut, today he hoped American womanhood would be a great influence for a stable world peace.

The Pontiff received the congresswoman for a 20-minute interview during which he asked her to convey his blessings to United States women. Mrs. Luce has been touring the Italian battlefront.

Uncle Sam's 'Idler' Maps Fight for Job

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 29 (AP)—The enforced idleness of A. C. Utterback, supervising examiner for the Farm Credit Administration, has come to an end with his suspension without pay—a suspension Utterback is preparing to fight.

The FCA auditor, who receives $700 a month salary, had been given only two small tasks in the past six months since a dispute with his superiors over a report he made on a federally-financed bank for co-operatives.

When word of his suspension by the FCA reached him, Utterback said he was glad to hear it.

"It means that at last I will be able to take my case to the Secretary of Agriculture and to the Civil Service Commission if necessary," he said.

Utterback asserted he would ask that the controversial bank report be introduced in evidence at a hearing before the Civil Service Commission.

The report made sensational charges which FCA officials said were not borne out.

Coal Reorganization In Britain Urged

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—A sweeping reorganization of Britain's coal industry under control of a government agency empowered to compel national unification of mining operations was proposed today by an advisory committee set up by the minister of fuel.

In a report to Parliament the committee, headed by the fuel ministry's director of production, Charles Reid, declared drastic changes are necessary "if the cost of production is to be reduced so as to enable the coal industry to meet all the needs of the country."

N. Y. Trio Indicted In Battle Escape

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Samuel Bayer, 51, of Lawrence, N. Y., and his brother Elias, 48, of New York were indicted by a federal grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to bribe an air force major to keep two relatives, both Army privates, from overseas duty.

Indicted as co-defendant was Murray Greenblatt, 36, an attorney, of Woodmere, N. Y., who U. S. Att. John F. X. McGohey said acted as go-between for the Bayers in making a money payment to Maj. Walter V. Radovich, 25.

McGohey said the Bayers gave the major $7000 in 1943 to have the soldiers transferred from the ground forces at Mitchel Field, N. Y., where Radovich was in training.

McGohey said the two privates involved were Martin Bayer, 22, son of Samuel Bayer, and Morris Usdan, 21, nephew of the two Bayers.

Marital Tangle of Gob, 20, Befuddles Even the Judge

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 29 (INS)—Jimmy "Buddy" Yorgenson, 20, hero of the Italian invasion, held his head in Supreme Court and moaned:

"Salerno was never like this."

Here's the general picture of the confused life of Yorgnson, Gunner's Mate 3c in the Navy:

1—He asked for annulment of his marriage last May to Mrs. Jeanette Melton Yorgenson, 20 a Norfolk, Va., waitress.

2—Mrs. Lucy Bawlf, New York city, advised the judge she witnessed a marriage between Yorgenson and Patricia Anne Edwards, 18, in New York city on St. Patrick's Day, less than two weeks ago.

3—Yorgenson revealed that Patricia gave birth to a son Tuesday.

Mrs. Florence Mildred Booth Yorgenson, 18, of New York city arrived and announced she eloped with Yorgenson to Ramsey, N. J., last April 15.

"That makes me No. 1 and I still love him," she declared.

The judge held his head, too, and postponed the case.

Petain-Churchill Secret Pact Told in Documents

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Dean of American Foreign Correspondents

MADRID, March 27—Interesting documents, purporting to reveal a secret agreement between Marshal Petain and the British Government at the time the French Chief of State was believed to be collaborating with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, have just come to light.

This secret agreement allegedly had the approval of Prime Minister Churchill, and it is claimed the Prime Minister himself made some changes in the documents.

These documents may be introduced at the trial in Paris of Etienne Flandin, who became Foreign Minister of the Vichy government immediately after the secret agreement was signed in London.

According to these documents, a special envoy, sent by Petain, was received by Churchill Oct. 24, 1940, and again two days later.

Briefly, according to the text of the alleged documents, Britain entered upon the following engagements or commitments vis-a-vis France:

1—Great Britain will re-establish France to her territorial integrity and sovereignty, providing she does nothing to aid the totalitarians and contributes to British victory.

2—Should the French government cede any air bases or naval bases to the totalitarian powers, Britain will consider herself freed from the above pledge and will in nowise be responsible or answer for the fate of France or the French Empire.

3—The British government agrees to trade between France and her colonies and that colonial ware from Dakar, Casablanca and North African ports to ports of southern France shall not come under the British blockade.

4—The British government pledges itself not to attempt to take by force, or incite to revolt by means of propaganda, the French colonies remaining loyal to the Vichy government.

5—Any British aggression against any French colonies will be repulsed by arms in order to avoid the defense of those colonies by Germany and Italy which would be equivalent to ceding to the Axis French naval or air bases.

Then follow commitments to Britain by the French Vichy government:

1—The French government pledges itself not to seek to take by force any French colonies that have gone over to Gen. DeGaulle.

2—The French government pledges itself not to cede to the Axis any ports or air bases in southern France, Algeria, Morocco or West Africa.

3—The French government will put the French Empire into the war against the Axis powers the day that Britain and her eventual Allies have given proof of their strength and when they will be in a position to deliver to the French Colonial Army, at present without munitions, heavy arms, tanks, anti-tank guns, munitions, essential material and the means of transport.

Then follows a special commitment by Petain and the Vichy government covering the French Fleet.

The French government, conforming to the solemn commitments which it has made to the British government, pledges itself to scuttle the units of the French Fleet rather than permit them to fall into the hands of the Germans and Italians.

Orders to this effect, and annulling all other orders, were issued to all commanders in the French Fleet.

Petain, it is claimed, kept his agreement with Britain from Pierre Laval who did not know of it.

No Easter Ham, And Few Lilies

The ham and the lily, meaning nothing theatrically cadaverous but two of Boston's favorite symbols of Easter Sunday, are going to be mighty scarce this week-end.

Marketmen reported today there just won't be any hams because the Army and Navy are taking all available.

As for Easter lilies, florists said supplies are so limited that the few they have on hand are selling at 75 cents per blossom as compared with a high of 65 cents last Easter.

Considerable beef and scattered supplies of pork and lamb may be had as substitutes for ham.

Sister Kenny Invites Solons To See Her Polio Treatment

Special to the Boston Evening American

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 29—Sister Elizabeth Kenny asked Rep. Donald D. O'Toole (D.) of New York, Surgeon General Thomas Parran and a proposed Congressional investigating committee to come to Minne apolis and see for themselves the results of her method of treating victims of infantile paralysis.

Sister Kenny, whose announced intention to leave this country because of reputed opposition by certain medical groups has raised a storm of protest, said of the invitation to Congress:

"If I am wrong, the American people should ask me to leave. If I am right, they should demand a definite program for treatment of infantile paralysis. In either case, the people are entitled to full facts about my method."

Meanwhile, in Washington, Sen. William Langer (R.) of North Dakota anticipated Sister Kenny's wish with the introduction of a bill proposing establishment of a $20,000,000 federal clinic to develop her method of treating poliomyelitis. He said:

"Children of this nation stricken with this scourge need and have a right to such a clinic. A nation which can spend billions for war certainly can spend $20,000,000 for such a proposed clinic.

"Why, that is less than we have spent studying diseases of cattle, hogs and sheep."

Sister Kenny told the Boston American:

"My quarrel with the American Medical Ass'n is not with individual members. Most of the doctors are grand men. It is against the officers and a small group who have spared no effort to discredit my method and place stumbling blocks in the way.

"There are hundreds of fine and conscientious doctors, members of the AMA, who are anxious and only too happy to get help in the never-ending conquest of poliomyelitis. But these men are powerless against the organized opposition."

Speaking of her invitation to the proposed congressional investigating committee and the surgeon general, Sister Kenny said:

"Their confidence in me must be proved. They must decide. They must say whether my work has been damaging to children. The only way to clear up this sorry situation is to have them come here.

"I sincerely want them to come here and see the work and look at the evidence there. Then let them look over the records of the American Medical Ass'n and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and see the refusal of those groups to help with badly-needed research. I ask no more than that."

New Bins Spur Paper Salvage

To aid Boston's annual spring cleanup drive, Salvage Chairman Hyland announced today that 125 new waste paper bins will be located at key points in the city during the next 10 days.

Hyland urged that citizens refrain from discarding bottles and other rubbish in the bins, and that they be used solely for salvaging waste paper.

"With the WPB order for a cutback in production of paper bags, wrapping paper and other paper products for civilian use, many persons who have not yet helped in the waste paper salvage work may realize that every scrap of paper is needed," he added.

Staff to Disarm Germans Sought

LONDON, March 29 (AP) — The Allies have started gathering a technical and scientific staff to speed the disarmament of Germany and dismantling of Nazi war industries, it was disclosed in Commons today.

Sec. Eden explained the move ordered at the Crimea conference—in discussing a newspaper advertisement for qualified workers. It said the advertisement was inserted, with approval of his office, by the ministry of labor on behalf of the British section of the Allied control commission for Germany.

"The problem," he said, "is one of controlling German armaments . . . to insure that Germany is not physically in position to start this business again."

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—My son was discharged from the Navy in 1943. He is still carrying his National Service Life Insurance, paid up to date. How much longer does he have before it may be converted? It was taken out in March, 1942. M. A. G., Roxbury.

A—He may convert policy anytime he wishes now. Suggest he visits Veterans Bureau, Federal Building, and obtain application to convert policy to whatever type desired.

Q—Would you please tell me where a former Marine would file application for mustering-out pay? W. K. L., Brookline.

A—Office of the Commandant, U. S. Marine Corps Headquarters, Washington, D. C.

Q—To whom do I write to find out if I am entitled to an allotment from my son in the Naval service? T. Y., Old Orchard Beach, Me.

A—Suggest you contact local chapter of Red Cross, Home Service Bureau, or Civilian Readjustment Offwe, First Naval District, 150 Causeway st., Boston, Mass.

Q—My husband told me he had received a second star for his Bronze Star Medal. Would you please tell me where I can obtain information as to reason for citation? O. F., Lawrence.

A—War Dept. in due time notifies next-of-kin of any awards given. You may write Adjutant General, Washington, D. C., for further details. Send letter care of Medals and Awards Division.

Q—My husband has been overseas for nearly 25 months, serving with the combat engineers. When Germany is defeated, will he be sent home on furlough or does he go directly to the Pacific? H. M., Boston.

A—I wish I could answer your question, but if I attempted it, it would be purely guesswork. War Dept. has announced where possible men would be allowed to return to states for furlough. But nothing definite stated. Personally, I hope all the boys now overseas (European Theater) will get a chance to get back home for a rest if they are slated for Pacific to do the same job on Japs as Germans.

Q—My enlistment in the Army was dated April, 1920, to April 3, 1921. I signed up for Army of Occupation but assignment never was carried out. Do I rate Victory Medal and World War I discharge button? Am I a veteran of World War I? I. H. S., Dover, N. H.

A—Not considered a veteran of World War I. Armistice signed and war ceased before you signed up. No Victory medal or discharge pin, according to War Dept.

Q—My husband was discharged from service because of a nervous condition. His discharge papers state he is not eligible for enlistment in any branch of the service. He is still within draft age. Will he be accepted if drafted? G. R. E., Woburn.

A—I don't think you will have any worry about your husband being drafted. Conditions under which discharged, as stated in papers, will probably disqualify him, according to Selective Service regulations presently.

Q—Does my husband have to renew his driver's license while in service? "M," Taunton, Mass.

A—A law has been passed providing that a person who held a license at the time of entering the service may obtain a renewal without an examination if he applies within six months after his discharge from the service. A recent order issued by Gov. Tobin authorizes the registrar to issue a temporary driving permit, without fee, good for not more than 30 days, to anyone home on leave or furlough who held a Massachusetts license at time of entering the service.

COL. EARLY TRANSFERRED

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—Col. John M. McCulloch of Louisville, Ky., assumed command of the 8th Air Force Service Command succeeding Col. James F. Early of Worcester, Mass., who has returned to another assignment in the United States.

Once a year I feel duty bound to say something about the continuing refusal of the average male to wear his proper shirt size. I have sounded off on this very delicate subject before but the results have been poor because so far as I can judge four out of five men are still strangling to death slowly. I don't know what it is that impels so many of us to indulge in this national harakiri. Sometimes I think it is a perverted conception of aesthetics and sometimes I think it is just indifference but whatever the reason this is a fact—neither good appearance nor good health is served by men trying to live with a perpetual tourniquet two wrinkles below the Adams apple.

We at Zareh's have tried for years to help correct this situation. We have straightened out a few people but our progress has been disheartenigly slow. It's damn hard to tell a man he is wearing his shirts too small and for exactly the same reason it is hard to tell a woman of impressive proportions that she is no longer the heavenly size twelve she was when Hubert married her. We used to tackle the problem by talking comfort but that got us nowhere. It seems that comfort like love is various things to various people and that some people enjoy gasping for breath. So let's forget that angle and discuss this just from the standpoint of good appearance. After all, most men who buy their shirts too small believe that by that act they acquire an air of trimness. This is very sad because if there is anything svelte about a purple face and popping eyes I'm a columnist and O'Hare's a haberdasher. Mind you I am not advocating a collar large enough for neck and chin both. I am simply asking for sanity in sizes.

Here are a few facts to remember when buying your next shirt here or any place else for that matter.

All shirts shrink. Shrinkage has been controlled; it hasn't been eliminated. "Permanent" fit in cotton is a joke because no shirt that fits you when new will ever fit you again.

If a shirt fits you when new it's not your size—the next one larger is. The proof of this is that all manufacturers cut shirt collars one size larger than marked to protect themselves against shrinkage they know will ensue.

If your shirt is too small the next size larger is never too big.

And finally, stop beefing about your laundry if your shirts don't fit you. For every once the laundry is at fault the probabilities are tenfold that you yourself have outgrown the size you are buying.

Sometimes I think the Laundry Owners of America should subsidize me.

MR. DE MILLE AND FREE ELECTIONS

THE ENERGETIC and enlightened protest of Cecil B. De Mille against arbitrary assessments by labor unions for the support of political issues, which the union member, as a free citizen and enfranchised voter, may personally oppose, is focusing attention on a democratic principle which needs close examination and vigorous reaffirmation.

Mr. De Mille has been barred from radio broadcasting by the American Federation of Radio Artists because he refused to pay $1 demanded by the union from all members for a fund to fight the "open shop" measure on the last California election.

Both by reason of his prominence and the important revenue which Mr. De Mille sacrificed rather than surrender his principles, he has become the spokesman, not only of those who believe in the doctrine of free elections, but also of those members of AFRA who protested the assessment but were forced to pay it or be deprived of their livelihood.

As Mr. De Mille said in his recent address at Omaha:

"This is an issue between all liberty-loving citizens and a few unscrupulous men who are trying to gather into their own hands—for their own use—the power of the people.

"If it is not quickly stopped, all individual rights and freedom will be gone and only the right to obey left to us."

In other words, this is not at all an issue of unionism, pro or con.

The issue is only whether a citizen shall be compelled, by economic coercion, to contribute money to whichever side of a political controversy the coercing power favors.

From saying "you shall give money to this candidate, or measure," to saying "you shall vote this way—or else," is a natural and almost an inevitable step in the historical process of first vitiating and then abolishing the doctrine of free elections.

That such a tendency is a direct and ominous threat to the freedom of organized labor itself is patently clear.

IT LURES MEN INTO THE VERY TRAP OF TYRANNY THEY ARE TRYING TO AVOID, BY SUBSTITUTING ANOTHER NAME FOR THE SAME TYRANNY.

IN THIS SENSE, Mr. De Mille is rendering AFRA a real service by opposing and condemning a course which, in the end, will lead to public suspicion and distrust in the motives and methods of organized labor.

As he points out, any agency or organization which, in a bid for power, interferes with the doctrine on which this nation is based, free election and free will, has taken THE FIRST STEP TOWARD ITS OWN DISSOLUTION.

No one doubts or denies the legitimate and just objectives of labor.

But those legitimate ends do not include the power to dictate to a citizen whom he shall support or vote for, nor the power to enforce the order by abolishing the citizen's right to earn his bread. That is the inescapable connotation in AFRA's assessment.

SENSIBLE CHANGE

SENATOR LEO SULLIVAN'S bill permitting prospective lawyers to take bar examinations as often as they wish has received Governor Tobin's approval and is now a law. Previously, a person was limited to three tests.

It might be also worth while to relax the regulations obliging candidates for the legal profession to have a specified amount of formal education.

The ambitious man or woman who studies at home, reads extensively at the public library and otherwise fits himself for the practice of law should not be denied the right to take bar examinations.

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER is the youngest looking 81-year-old woman in the United States. It is a long time since Edna was a musical comedy star. I can't even remember having seen her on the stage . . . How much did you weigh when married? How much do you weigh now? Fellow I know weighs 70 pounds more than when married. Recently when shaving he called out: "I cut my chin." His wife said: "Which one, darling?"

SAYS HE: Writes a New York husband: "According to a recent news story, a jobless 47-year-old widower with three children advertised for a wife and received over 50 answers the first day. One of the women eager to become the wife of this man said she had two automobiles, a town house and two country estates. This incident is an illustration of how desperate women are these days to get husbands. It should cause women who have husbands to appreciate how lucky they are. They should show their appreciation by treating their husbands more like pets than like necessary evils."

But, Edward, my boy, your campaign No. 8876½ for a plain ham sandwich with no lettuce has us down. We grow lettuce for a living."* These letters have touched me. I am probably all wrong about rabbit and lettuce. I just don't know what is good for me. WASHINGTON SCENE

By GEORGE DIXON

WASHINGTON, March 29—One of the crosses I am forced to bear is an English Johnny named Kenneth Cavendish-Fish, who seems to think his sole mission in life is to keep me posted on the doings of his Aunt Sarah back home.

I suspect Mr. Cavendish-Fish is one of those blighters who normally writes stiff letters to the London Times, but now—being over here—uses me as a sort of substitute.

Whatever the reason, I often wish he had chosen another victim because he and his blessed aunt are slowly driving me potty.

The latter has a shuddery fascination I cannot resist. I can't get her out of my mind—or out of the column, either. So here's the latest from her precious nephew:

"MY DEAR DIXON: When you referred to my Aunt Sarah the other day as a 'Holy Terror' you wrote, if I may say so, without sufficient regard for the precise phrase, the accurate shade of meaning.

"My Aunt Sarah is indeed a lady with a mind of her own; but if we are talking about holy terrors there are better examples to be quoted.

"There is, for instance, the boy Cyril, who arrived in Bottle Parva, in Buckinghamshire, where my Aunt Sarah lives, in a busload of children evacuated from the London blitz.

"My Aunt Sarah received a telephone call from Superintendent Todd, of the Bottle Parva police, asking if she could come to the station, where the children were meeting those upon whom they had been billeted.

"My Aunt Sarah arrived to find that all the children had departed according to plan except for this Cyril, a fair-haired lad of 12, who had a frankly sneering expression on his face.

"Also present were Superintendent Todd and Miss Phoebe Garrity, the postmistress, with whom Cyril was supposed to stay.

It appeared they had been trying for an hour to persuade Cyril to accompany Miss Garrity to her home. They were noticeably rattled.

"'All he says,' Miss Garrity explained to my Aunt Sarah, 'is nuts!'

"Superintendent Todd, a kindly man, said: "'You'd think he was a bloomin' monkey. He can't expect to get nuts in a police station.'

★ ★ ★

"I think I told you my Aunt Sarah paid a visit to New York in 1939, and that while there employed her time to good advantage.

"She quickly sized up the situation.

"Approaching the boy Cyril she adjusted her face so as to be able to talk out of the corner of her mouth and said:

"'Listen, you big lug—if you know what's good you'll scram outa here! Nobody never did no good keeping company with cops.'

"To the manifest astonishment of Superintendent Todd and Miss Garrity, Cyril stood up at once and replied:

"'Maybe you got sump'n there, babe!'

★ ★ ★

"MY AUNT MADE the situation clear in a few words:

"'The boy is a patron of American gangster films. He ought to be in the care of someone who understands the language.'

"So that was how Cyril came to stay with my Aunt Sarah.

"His conversation, it developed, consisted almost wholly of reminiscences involving the sudden deaths of persons with peculiar names who had, he said, 'crossed' him and whom he freely described as rats.

"But what surprised me more than this was the decision of my Aunt Sarah to represent herself as a former gunman's moll, and to hear her recount a number of adventures which she led Cyril to believe had befallen her in America.

"I had to leave Bottle Parva for a few days and when I got back Cyril had departed.

"She was singularly reticent about Cyril's departure, but Superintendent Todd, who had taken a particular interest in the case, had some of the facts at his disposal.

"I wish there was time to tell you the circumstances that led Cyril to leave so abruptly, but the fact is it's 4 o'clock and they have just brought my cup of tea in."

HOLLYWOOD, March 29—Darryl Zanuck is so sure that the end of the war in Europe is near that he has completely revamped his plans for "Riocabana." The South American epic will not be filmed on the 20th lot. Darryl is sending the entire troupe, headed by John Payne, Carmen Miranda, June Haver and Martha Stewart, to Brazil and Mexico and the picture will be filmed against the real backgrounds. This should please the South Americans who have often complained that Latin films are not authentic.

LUNCHED WITH Helen Hayes and Anita Loos and heard from them Helen's plan to bring a comedy written by Anita to the stage. In this comedy, believe it or not, Helen visits a cocktail bar and takes one or two too many. "I'm tired of playing stuffed shirt roles," she told me. "I like Anita's comedy and it's my seat." Anita wrote the Hayes play especially for Helen when she was in New York. Meanwhile "Harriet" is doing a sold-out business. Colin Clement and Florence Ryerson, the authors, say they have four movie offers, but will not sell the rights until Helen gives permission. Helen feels the South, even at this late day, would never accept Harriet Beecher Stowe.

ALICE HEAD of London writes a most interesting letter to Marion Davies. Alice repeats a telegram George Bernard Shaw sent Lord Alfred Douglas when he heard Douglas was dying, but since the man who figured so extensively in the life of Oscar Wilde has gone, I won't repeat G. Boston After Dark

REPORTS MAKING the rounds that Joe Kennedy has the rail in the race to buy Suffolk Downs are gaining headway with the speed of a war's-end rumor . . . The story may well be true—but if it is, we haven't heard it from an authoritative source . . . Former Police Commr. Joseph F. Timilty has never made a secret of a previous attempt to buy control in the East Boston track, and that he was acting for a syndicate that was well-upholstered with Mr. Kennedy's folding money, was admitted to this department by Mr. Timilty in person.

IN FACT, the former Boston police boss was disappointed when an agreement that he would be given an opportunity to meet contending offers didn't pan out, he said . . . At any rate — the Kennedy-Suffolk Downs yarn cannot be authenticated at this hour.

We do know that the two Joes, former Ambassador Kennedy and former Commr. Timilty have been enjoying the sun at Palm Beach this winter, and their immediate next plans are to make a trip to Mexico City, and then to Caliente.

BOSTON'S INTENSE interest in racing, by the way, continues to evoke some astonishment as one makes a tour of the town . . . Stopping at Pee Red Coach grill at 8:30 p.m., and ending later at the Dix and Hounds, with the Town Club, Steuben's Victory Room and The Mayfair included at the finish, this writer counted the tipsters he encountered on the subject of Exeter's return to New England this summer.

Manpower Bill Backing Claimed

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Administration forces claimed enough Senate votes today to send the long-disputed manpower control bill to a receptive President.

Contesting the contention of O'Mahoney (D.) of Wyoming that the compromise measure would be rejected, Majority Leader Barkley said he did a little nose-counting himself.

"And I feel pretty confident," he told reporters.

Historic Relic Row Cools Off

If the granite stone that once marked the site of the Washington Elm in Cambridge is such a valuable historical relic, why was it relegated to a city dump?

That was the retort of City Councilor Michael A. Sullivan, who spent $150 to rescue the tablet from the rubbish heap, to the charge of Herbert McSorley of the Washington Elm Memorial Committee that it was a disgrace for the stone to be in possession of a politician.

Although McSorley threatens court action to recover the stone from Sullivan, who intends to place it on his family's cemetery plot, Cambridge citizens in general are discounting the controversy as "much ado about nothing."

miles northeast to near Beltersham, south of the main Berlin-Frankfurt superhighway.

The Lahn river was crossed at Marburg and the Germans lost without a fight a strong natural barrier to Bradley's eastward drive. Elements of the Ninth Infantry Division rushed in behind the tanks, to consolidate gains.

Nowhere was the enfeebled enemy able to check either of Bradley's armies in this fifth day of continuous, sleepless attack to end the war.

Flying weather was bad for the third straight day—about the only comfort in the war picture for the enemy. Rain, fog and low clouds shrouded most of the front.

The British at last reports were 50 miles east of the Rhine and 240 from Berlin in their breakthrough aimed at Muenster. Dorsten fell. Emmerich, Bocholt and Borkem al were entered.

Contacts were established by the First and Third armies at Idstein, 16 miles northwest of Frankfurt, and at Kamburg, 14 miles north of Weisbaden. Another linkup was made at Niedderrhausen, 14 miles west of Frankfurt.

Patton's columns encountered scattered mines, unmanned road blocks and feeble resistance.

Junctions of the First and Third Army gave Bradley's group a deep hold of more than 120 miles on the Rhine. The Third in turn was linked with the Seventh Army farther south.

Pilots saw three German columns retreating helter skelter east and northeast of Giessen yesterday and destroyed or damaged 760 trucks and armored vehicles.

2 Boys Chosen For Oratory Test

Chester Collier, finalist in the recent American Legion Oratorical Contest, today was named to represent Hyde Park High School in the William Randolph Hearst National Oratorical Contest: "James Monroe and the Monroe Doctrine."

Young Collier will compete with winners of intramural contests in 40 public and parochial high schools in Boston in the local elimination tests in Faneuil Hall on April 10. In another group students from 14 Greater Boston colleges will also compete.

Another winner of the intramural contests being held this week in Boston high schools is James P. Kelley, a student at Cathedral High School. Names of all winners in these contests must be submitted by April 3 to Oratorical Contest Editor, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston. The contest is sponsored locally by the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.

Winners of the local contest will compete with other winners in 13 key cities throughout the nation and will be eligible for national prizes totaling $25,000 in war bonds.

Priest of Bataan Believed Alive

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29 (INS)—That Fr. William Cummings of the Maryknoll Fathers might still be alive and survived the sinking of a Japanese prison ship was disclosed by his sister, Miss Edith Cummings.

Miss Cummings said she had received word from Maj. Albert Talbot, Army chaplain, that the priest's name was not listed as among the missing from the enemy ship sunk in Subic bay last Dec. 14.

Formerly a superior of the Maryknoll Fathers, Fr. Cummings is credited with originating the phrase "there are no atheists in foxholes," while serving as an Army chaplain on Bataan.

During a bombing and strafing raid on Bataan Hospital No. 1 he was reciting the Lord's Prayer and as he ended the prayer, he turned to an orderly and said:

JVA Will Help Conserve Soil

The Number One job for 4-H Club members, including hundreds of Junior Victory Army boys and girls, will be saving the soil for future production and producing large yields of food at the same time in 1945, according to Horace M. Jones, state 4-H Club leader.

Some of the soil conservation practices to be put into effect this year will be mapping out of farm lands, laying out of contour levels, planting cover crops and reseeding grass lands.

To encourage the project, those making greatest progress will receive special county, state, and national recognition when records are completed next fall.

Clubs and corps which are interested may obtain help from Arthur E. Beaumont, extension soil conservatist at Mass. State College, Amherst.

Plans have already been started so that many of these soil-saving methods may be introduced this season, Jones says. Each 4-H Club member may select at least three conservation practices from a list of 25 or more suggestions. Last year many members accomplished more than the requirements and even better results are expected in 1945.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, P. O. Box 223, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Beauty

All Hands Require Care

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

NOTHING GIVES a gal away so quickly as badly groomed hands. Like most beauty-conscious girls, Warner Star Angela Green is doubly conscientious in the care of her hands. After washing and drying them thoroughly . . . she uses a softening cream . . . like the one discussed today . . . to make certain that her hands are as lovely as her face . . . since hands can't be hidden from view . . . any more than the complexion.

A GIRL'S HANDS are wondrous things. Like her eyes . . . they are able to express a multitude of moods . . . and to reflect her true personality. "Phyllis" . . . whose diary of neglected beauty care we've recited for days . . . and who now wants all the beauty she can muster before her boy friend comes marching back into her arms . . . is pretty much disgusted with her war-working hands that look so much older than the charming glass-stem toyers of 24-year-olds should appear.

For example . . . long fingers supposedly indicate patience, love of detail . . . short fingers, impulsiveness. Thick fingers have a materialistic nature . . . while thin fingers are inclined to be exacting and nervous. Hands with a smooth contour reveal a light-hearted, loving personality . . . those with a boney, knotty contour are usually serious and thoughtful.

Homebody hands aren't the only ones that need pampering. An eight-hour session at that typewriter . . . or factory machine can be just as destructive as a whirl with the vacuum cleaner, as our gal "Phyllis" has discovered.

However, to be truly wondrous . . . a woman's hands MUST be beautifully groomed . . . one good reason among many for relying on a delicately pink—as a baby—cloud hand cream . . . an extra-thick, creamy-rich lotion that whitens and softens without a trace of stickiness.

While you're busy keeping those hands like a model's paradise . . . don't forget the value of exercise if you want them supple and graceful, too. Indulge in these hand calisthenics simultaneously with the application of the hand cream. If you would like to strengthen and relax your fingers . . . do this easy stretching exercise. Stretch your hand on a flat surface . . . spread it as wide apart as you can from thumb to little finger until you feel the pull on all the tendons. Relax for a moment and repeat . . . ten times or more. And if your hands are large-knuckled . . . this exercise together with the creaming . . . will go a long way toward reducing the finger bulge.

Remember, no matter what your other charms may be . . . a man never forgets your hands. And neither should you. Keep them loved and lovely . . . and let this wonderful hand cream lotion pave the way for you

For the name of this hand cosmetic for wondrous hands, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Shoe Care Is Important

By BETTINA BEDWELL

ONE OF THE leading experts on the care of shoes, Mr. E. H. Elliott, has given me some pointers on what to do to make them last, to keep them good-looking, and to add to comfort.

First of all, air your shoes every time you take them off. This is of very great importance, for a well-aired shoe will not crack. Don't keep your shoes in an airless closet, either. They have to have air.

You all know you should keep your shoes on shoe trees, but do you know that this will keep the lining from wearing out soon? And when linings go the shoe leather is going to wear out much faster.

Keep your shoes well polished. They will wear much longer; they don't scuff so easily. Above all, if your shoes get wet put them on shoe trees at once or stuff them with paper, and never put them near heat to dry. Use saddle soap first to clean them, then polish after they have been wet.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Wednesday—I am sure that many of you feel as I do—that you are perpetually waiting for something. Every time you open a paper, and every time you turn on the radio, you hope to hear that the end of hostilities has come in Europe.

I read yesterday that a number of German people keep asking why we continue bombing and destroying their cities and countryside. A plea was made for more propaganda on our part so that the Germans should understand the war and their part in it. It seems fairly obvious that they must understand it or they would not insist on continuing their resistance.

* * *

THE AWARDING of the Army-Navy "E" to the blind workers of the Lighthouse Workshop of the Blind yesterday was one of the most moving ceremonies I have attended. A blinded marine, the recipient of many medals for heroism on Guadalcanal, gave the "E" pin to some special workers.

The achievements of the blind, who have been working for some time in their own workshop, must be a great encouragement to the men who have been blinded in this war. Since the government has been able to get such good work from the blind men and women for the war effort, one cannot help hoping that employers will take note of what can be done with training in spite of their handicap.

I spent two hours at Walter Reed Hospital this morning, first taking part in one of their regular forum series, and then answering questions for another hour.

Among the questions was one from a man who said that in the past he found a physical handicap caused an employer to be unwilling to employ a man for fear of accident, or because he doubted his ability to do the job as well as a man with no physical handicap.

* * *

AFTER LUNCH a group of about 30 men from Fort Meade Regional Hospital came to see the White House. We had some light refreshments and talked for about an hour. The day was so beautiful that we were able to show them the south portico, since they were particularly anxious to see where the inauguration ceremonies were held.

Fashion

YOU'LL WANT to swish and sway in this smart little navy blue wool number . . . because of designer Omar Kiam's feminine touch of a plaid taffeta petticoat . . . under the slim skirt line. The matching waistcoat blouse has a very feminine ruffle at the neckline . . . and in the same taffeta plaid, carrying out the ensemble idea. Note the extended cuff line of the blouse . . . and the huge cartwheel straw for balanced grace.—R.M.

Lamb Shoulder With Apple Stuffing Ideal for Easter

By MARTHA LEE

HAM IS THE TRADITIONAL meat to serve for Easter dinner. However, it may not be available in your market this week-end. But don't let that stop your having the most delicious dinner ever.

Lamb is plentiful and is a good choice for spring meals. It's young, it's tender and goes well with spring vegetables and fruits. A boned cushion-style shoulder with tart apple stuffing, French fried onion rings and dessert of sour cream raisin pie is a menu that appeals to spring appetites.

LAMB SHOULDER WITH APPLE STUFFING

1 lamb shoulder
¼ lb. salt pork, diced
½ cup chopped onion and stalks
½ cup chopped onion
2 cups chopped apple
2 tbsp. brown sugar
1½ tbsp. salt
½ tsp. each of pepper, thyme, marjoram and sage
1 cup dry bread crumbs

Have a square-cut lamb shoulder boned and sewed on one side. Fry salt pork in heavy skillet until almost crisp. Add celery and onion and cook over low heat until soft. Add diced apples, brown sugar and seasoning. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly about 8 minutes. Add bread crumbs and stir lightly over low heat about 2 minutes. Fill cavity of lamb shoulder with stuffing and sew or skewer edges together. Place shoulder, fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Roast at 325 deg. F., allowing about 40 minutes per pound of meat. Makes 8 servings.

FRENCH FRIED ONIONS

3 large mild onions
½ cup milk Flour
Salt Pepper

Wash and peel onions and cut in thin slices. Separate slices into rings. Dip in milk and then in seasoned flour. Fry in deep, hot fat (380 deg. F.) 2 to 4 minutes, until golden brown. Drain on soft paper. Makes 6 servings.

GLAZED ONIONS OR CARROTS

Cook small white onions or carrots in boiling salted water about 20 to 30 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Let stand a few minutes to dry. Melt 4 tbsp. butter or margarine in pan. Add ¼ cup honey. When well blended, add onions or carrots and cook slowly until browned and well glazed. Turn vegetables occasionally for an even glaze.

SOUR CREAM RAISIN PIE

1 8-inch pastry shell
2 tbsp. cornstarch
⅔ cup sugar ½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon ½ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. cloves
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 cup sour cream
1 cup raisins 2 egg whites
¼ tbsp. sugar

Make pastry for one 8-inch shell. In top of double boiler mix together the cornstarch, sugar, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Add well-beaten egg yolks and mix well. Add sour cream and raisins and cook over hot water till thick. Cool and pour into baked pastry shell. Top with meringue made from egg whites and sugar. Brown at 300 deg. F. for 20 to 30 minutes.

Easter Preview

By BETTY ALDEN

BOSTON SOCIETY donned its prettiest Easter Parade fashions for the wedding yesterday noon of post deb Fanny Gray Little to Ens. Henry S. Morgan, Jr., grandson of Charles Francis Adams of Boston and the late J. P. Morgan of New York.

The picturesque First Church in Chestnut Hill and the sun drenched lawn of the Leon M. Littles' home nearby where the wedding breakfast was held, were filled with prominent Gotham and Hub relatives of the couple. The bride, in a creamy satin gown with a long train and veil of heirloom lace held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms, had three bridesmaids in aqua net and lace with fuchsia flowers in their hair and bouquets of sweet peas shading from coral to fuchsia and purple.

Mrs. Leon M. Little, mother of the bride, chose a navy blue gown with yoke of tiny white net ruffles and a hat of spring flowers. Mrs. Henry S. Morgan of New York, the former Catherine Adams of Boston and mother of the groom, wore white orchids on her mink cape, and hat and gown of deep violet.

MRS. CHARLES BUELL—Attends Morgan-Little wedding.

* * *

Lt. Com. George T. Bowdoin of New York was with his daughter, Aileen, and Anne Morgan, cousin of the groom, who wore a lime feather beanie with a deeper green sheer wool dress. Others attending were Mrs. Francis A. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. George S. West, Mrs. George E. B. Hill, in a nifty blue and black print with matching pancake hat, debutante Alison Kelsey in a navy and white print with red purse and slippers, Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby with her daughter, Mrs. K. S. Choate, Mrs. Frank E. Nulsen, attractive Mrs. John Crocker of Groton, wife of the minister who officiated, Mrs. T. C. Baker with her daughters, Frances and Cornelia Baker Baxter.

* * *

MRS. HAROLD Green Arnold and her newly married son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Arnold F. Westwood, were among the enthusiastic Theater Guild subscribers attending the Guild's colorful new musical "Carousel" at the Colonial this week.

Also glimpsed in the packed house were deb Ann Sargent, vacationing from Briarcliff, with her dad, John Sargent; Mrs. Paul Bertelsen, up from the North Shore with Mrs. Henry Lee and Mrs Fitzwilliam Sargent who had a gay fluff of cerise tulle tied in a bow under her chin to brighten her black costume suit; Mrs. Harold Kern, sables on her tailored black spring suit; Dr. and Mrs William F. Cotting, the latter accenting her blonde hair with a diamond clipped black dress and twin gardenias in her coiffure.

Also attending were Mrs. John Moseley Abbot, a black and pink lace print under her beige fox jacket; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hastings, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Donovan, the latter in a gray Easter suit with a jaunty white straw sailor hat; the Robert M P. Kennards, Eleonora Sears in her usual front row seat, Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller, in a ruby crepe with her son, Peter; the Andie Winslows, W. D. Orcutts, and many more

Eva Tanguay Better Of Heart Ailment

LOS ANGELES, March 29 (AP)—Eva Tanguay, 66, one-time singing star of vaudeville, is showing improvement from congestive heart failure and dropsy. Near death a week ago, she has been bedridden for eight years.

Said Dr. Maurice H. Kowan: "She's still full of wisecracks and can still talk a mile-a-minute."

"It's rather quiet around here since twelve of them went home to their mothers!"

Curfew Call

SCOBEY, Mont., March 29 (AP)—City authorities decided to help the entertainment curfew by ringing the town fire bell every midnight—but one group of citizens was not informed.

The bell clanged. About 30 volunteer firemen leaped from cozy beds and hurried to their apparatus, buttoning and zippering on the way.

Spike Jones Boston Star

Spike Jones, pridefully crowned "King of Corn," and his City Slickers today take over the RKO Boston stage for a week with their odd assortment of musical instruments. These include a washboard, a jallopy automobile, cow bells, bottles, flit guns, nine automobile horns and a complete set of perfectly tuned doorbells.

Recently returned from a USO-sponsored tour through France and England, Jones says the highlight of his career occurred when the City Slickers played the "Marseillaise" in France for the first time in four years. The band was the first to go overseas to entertain Allied troops in England and France and even got to Germany unofficially.

On the same bill with the Slickers will be Judie Manners, vocalist; Mavis Mims, dancer, and the Black Brothers, comedy pantomimists.

Sonja Henie Still Reigns; Marie McDonald Scores

By PEGGY DOYLE

Sonja Henie is still the hottest thing on ice but, between the stunning ice production numbers, the scripters of her first picture for International leave her adrift on a creaking story structure.

"It's a Pleasure," in which Michael O'Shea, Bill Johnson and Marie "The Body" McDonald are featured with the gill-sized skating champion, is now showing on Keith Memorial screen. It is her first Technicolor picture and presents Miss Henie in her natural pink and white and gold color scheme that used to evoke oh's and ah's from Boston Garden ice enthusiasts.

The plot is short on originality, fails to give the cute watch-charm on blades sufficient story support. One of a skating trio in an ice show, she is revealed to be an ardent admirer of Michael O'Shea, star hockey-player whose temper matches his torchy hair. They are married, and soon after O'Shea is barred from the game for one fight too many.

Miss Henie stars every instant she is on ice but even a Bergman would be stopped by the inadequate story they've handed Sonja O'Shea, too, does the best he can with it.

Aiding them are Bill Johnson who was an overnight hit here in an Ethel Merman-starring Broadway musical tryout and is now on loan from Metro, and Marie McDonald, who play an enterprising ice show producer and his eye-filling wife.

Miss McDonald's blonde hair has been tinted a rosewood mahogany and, whether it is the dye-job or increasing confidence as an actress, she stands out as a most artfully chiselled stick of dynamite. She is hot stuff in "It's a Pleasure" . . . not just pretty-pretty.

Don Loper, the picture's associate producer and former night-club dancer, is Miss Henie's partner in a dance sequence sans skates that proves Sonja in motion, with or without blades, makes beautiful music.

The co-feature is "The Crime Doctor's Courage."

JEAN GABIN

Jean Gabin Revival at Fine Arts

The Jean Gabin-starring French film, "Pepe Le Moko," and "The Forgotten Village," with English commentary by Burgess Meredith, are presently being revived on the Fine Arts screen.

"Pepe Le Moko" is the story of Algiers' Casbah, that dizzying maze of terraces stepping down to the sea, where the human flotsam from the Mediterranean sought hospice from the too curious police. One of these was Le Moko, haunted and hunted romantic

Cat Calls

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, March 29 (AP)—When a telephone operator found the telephone connection to a seed store open and "moaning sounds" coming over the wire, she called the police.

Patrolman Laverne Rawlings and Military Police Sgt. Jess Rinabolt hurried to the store.

They found two cats fighting, the telephone receiver knocked from its holder.

Skipper Cronin Takes Whirl at Third Base Job

By JOE CASHMAN

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 29—General Manager Eddie Collins was on hand to watch skipper Joe Cronin begin an attempted comeback as an active player as the Red Sox squared off against the New York Yankees in the opener of a nine-game exhibition series, this afternoon.

The Fenway front office boss had nothing to do with the Cronin decision. Joe revealed his intention to play third base in the game some hours before Eddie arrived in Atlantic City.

Eddie Collins

The G. M., however, expressed his approval of the experiment after one look at the pilot, saying:

"Joe appears in better shape than I've seen him in years. If he feels he's able to play regularly, I'm sure he can do it and that he'll strengthen the club."

Cronin is making no rash promises. He doesn't know how long he'll be able to stand the grind of daily play at the age of 38 and after three seasons of only spasmodic appearance in the lineup. Maybe he'll find it a case of the spirit being willing but the flesh being weak. He might not even be able to survive the pre-season campaign.

But it is his hope to open the season at the hot corner and carry on from there for a good spell, if not all the way.

★ ★ ★

UNDER EXISTING conditions, Joe really had no choice other than the one he has made.

He's no longer fast enough to play short. He's not certain of having anybody else to start the campaign at his old position except rookie Jack Tobin, whose pro experience is limited to two months of third-sacking at Louisville three years ago.

At second base he must rely on Ben Steiner, another tyro who has never played a game of big league ball.

This pea-green keystone combination must have some veteran around to steady and advise it or the Sox couldn't expect to win a game a week.

And Cronin is the only one who can fill that bill.

George Metkovich, at first, couldn't do it. And certainly neither could Nick Polly, fresh in from Louisville, were he played at third.

If Cronin can stand the gaff long enough to straighten out Tobin and Steiner it will help a lot. If he, in the bargain, can stay in there at third, the Sox might become a sensation.

★ ★ ★

THAT'S WHY, to our way of thinking, the pilot decided to jump back into harness.

He entertained no such idea when training started. At that time he planned to use either Skeeter Newsome or Eddie Lake at short and either Polly or Tobin at third.

The tardiness of the two holdover shortstops in reporting necessitated the presence of Tobin at short, and presented Joe with a problem to which he could find no solution save the one he has hit upon.

The pitchers today were to be Rex Cecil and Red Barrett.

As long as his legs stand up, Joe ought to be able to hold his own as a third-sacker. Both his hitting and his fielding have been brilliant in intra-club games. Naturally, he's not the great player of other years, but he's in better shape than at any time since he ceased playing regularly in 1941.

Kopak May Furnish Bruins' Spark Tonight

DETROIT, March 29—Hockey interest rocketed here today with the Red Wings back home to tackle the Bruins tonight in the fifth game of the Stanley Cup semifinals, with the series count knotted at two wins each. Odds here favored the Wings today.

Over the past couple of years the Detroit club had the Indian sign on the Bruins until the current series opened and the B's played inspired hockey to take the first two games.

But the Wings regained their margin, taking the next two affairs in Boston. And with the Rossmen minus able Gino Rozzini, who was hurt Tuesday, observers here figure it's all over but the victory parade.

Manager Art Ross of the Bruins was to play Russ Kopak, little forward from the Olympics, in Rozzini's place.

After tonight's contest here, the teams return to Boston for the sixth game, with the seventh and final game—if any—to be played here.

It could be that Kopak, whom the Blackhawks tried to purchase earlier in the season, will pull the Bruins out of their relapse. Detroit lost its great center, Syd Howe; called rookie Tony Bukovich and got back into contention for the Stanley Cup by grabbing two 3-2 verdicts in a row. Bukovich, of course, didn't shine; but the Wings came out of their humiliating spin with Howe on the sidelines and a freshman filling in.

Kopak had his umbrellas, rubbers and raincoat packed for a trip to sunny California when notified of his promotion to the Bruins Tuesday night. The Olympics head for the West Coast after they conclude their playoffs Saturday night and Kopak was all set to go with them on this series of exhibition games—a reward for their sweep of amateur titles.

The Bruins personally are aware that they've squandered two in a row and were kicking themselves for lapses, notably Jack McGill. He still doesn't know how goaler Harry Lumley wrecked his solo bid Tuesday night.

"A very good goaler," groaned McGill, "but I had no right missing that one."

Despite the general dismay over two straight trimmings on the home pond, the Bruins may not be on the way out. This series has convinced them they're a better club than the Wings; that they improved remarkably over the final month of the season while the Wings, already at their peak could advance no further.

SKYSCRAPERS—Oklahoma Aggie Bob Kurland, left, seven feet high, and George Mikan of DePaul, right, standing 6-9, tower over Timer Cappy Lane of N. Y. Garden, 5-6. They're blocking exit, despite what sign says. Aggies tackle DePaul tomorrow night for college court title.

Canadiens Back to Wall

Faced with the necessity of winning three straight games or being eliminated from the Stanley Cup hockey play-offs, the Champion Montreal Canadiens tonight will meet the rampaging Toronto Leafs in the fifth game of their semi-final series.

Although each team has scored nine goals to date, Toronto leads in games, 3 to 1, and points, 6 to 2. A Leafs' victory tonight would give them the necessary eight points for entering the final against the winner of the Boston-Detroit set.

Fern Gauthier was due back to aid Montreal's third line, and the recently injured center, Buddy O'Connor, might possibly be ready to play.

Irish Refuses to Tell His N.Y. Hoop Profits

NEW YORK, March 29—Angrily raising his voice, Ned Irish, acting president of Madison Square Garden and New York's top basketball promoter, refused to produce his books and records for the Brooklyn inquiry into gambling and bribery in the cage sport.

Irish, caled to the witness stand before County Judge Leibowitz, sitting as a committing magistrate, was flatly asked if he ever paid part of his profits to coaches, trainers or players.

He half rose in the witness stand and he barked out a loud "No."

Upon persistent questioning by Asst. Dist. Atty. Cohen, regarding transactions in cash and check withdrawals, Irish admitted entertaining coaches, sports writers and athletic directors.

The hearing, marking the resumption of the investigation which was launched following to bribing of five Brooklyn College players by professional gamblers, opened with Irish stating that he entered the promotion end of the game to improve conditions of the sport.

Only in dealing with his first doubleheader at the Garden in December, 1934, did Irish agree to go into the question of profit to himself. He had stated that he had started as a promoter virtually on a shoestring, investing no money and receiving no backing.

He denied that a "Mr. Mara" had backed him.

The first game, he said, grossed $15,000, with $1100 profit to himself after all expenses were paid. The Garden received $4400 for rent, $5500 went to the competing schools, $2500 for help and incidentals and $1500 for taxes.

Cohen asked Irish how much personal income he derived from the games the following season, 1935-1936. Irish said:

"After expenses were paid, 40 per cent went to the Garden, 50 per cent went to the colleges and 10 per cent was my share."

Q—What was the income for the 10 games played in 1935 and 1936?

A—Approximately $120,000.

Q—What was your share?

A—I prefer not to state my personal income.

Irish then said in the 1939-1940 season 16 games had been booked at the Garden with $200,000 in gate receipts. During the 1940-1941 season, 19 games were played at the Garden with a $230,000 gate.

Ruth Comes Here as Wrestling Referee

George Herman "Babe" Ruth, still the world's most popular sports figure, in spite of the fact that it's almost 10 years since he hung up his spikes as an active ball player, will be making his debut in a new role—that of wrestling referee—next Wednesday night in a world's championship match at the Boston Garden.

Ruth will be third man in the ring at the North Station sports palace when Steve "Crusher" Casey, formerly of County Kerry, Ireland, tangles with Sandor Szabo, Santa Monica, Cal.

Screwball Making Hutchings Winner

By HUCK FINNEGAN

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29—Jumbo John Hutchings never has been a winner in the majors, but the Braves 265-pound pitcher has looked like a winner all this spring. That could be because he has added a screwball to his repertoire.

Hutchings has been kicking around for some time now. He was with the Reds when they won pennants '39 and '40 and has spent his time since shuffling between Boston and Indianapolis.

His shuffling days are about over, it would seem, after the pitching he has displayed in two games against the Senators.

The rubber-armed hurler went four innings against the Nats last Sunday, holding them scoreless. He went six against them in the midweek game on Georgetown's Hoya field and not only held them runless but gave up only one hit. Not until he walked Vaughn in the fifth did a Nat reach first base. His control was splendid all the way. (But the Braves lost in the ninth 2-0.)

More pleasing to Manager Bob Coleman than his control, however, was the manner in which he hog-tied left-handed batters. They used to murder him once, and they finally chased him out of the league. In Sunday's game the left-handed hitting Joe Kuhel and Hillis Layne combed him for two hits apiece, but in Wednesday's game here he took good care of them and George Binks as well. Layne didn't hit the ball out of the infield and Kuhel did just once. Binks was even less effective.

Binks batted .376 at Milwaukee last year and is supposed to be quite a pickup, but the first time at bat against Hutchings he fouled to Shemo, and the second time up he looked like a novice as he fanned pitifully. He actually didn't come within a foot of the ball as he waved his bat with futility.

"Looks like Big John has found himself," beamed Coleman today. "He pitched real good ball when he came back from Indianapolis late last season and he's certainly in fine trim now. If he can keep getting those left-handers out, he'll win anywhere. That screwball he picked up last season seems to have made him a winner."

The Braves have only eight pitchers in camp but there is quality among them. Andrews and Javery have proved their worth in previous seasons, and Hutchings, Wallace, and Cozart look as if they've got it. When Jim Tobin and Red Barrett join the club, the Braves should be well fixed on the mound.

★ ★

Hutchings can hit and, like Tobin, should help himself to several victories with his own bludgeon. In three official trips to the plate this spring he has made two hits. He bats left-handed. Southpaw Cozart, on the other hand, bats right-handed. He, too, can hit as can Jimmy Wallace. The Braves have more hitting pitchers than any staff in the loop . . . Tom Nelson left last night for Boston where four abscessed teeth will be extracted by a Hub dentist. It is believed that this operation will rid his system of a toxin that has made his arm sore . . . Whitey Wietelmann has been fielding sensationally, and Nick Culler will have be very good to oust him from the shortstop job . . . Tom Earley was to make his first start of the season against the Coast Guard at Curtis Bay today . . . Joe Mack will reach camp tomorrow to battle classy Vin Shupe for the first base post. Mack hit .287 for Columbus last year . . . Butch Nieman will arrive here Saturday, giving the Braves a total of 26 men in camp.

Zullo Trains For Mell Bout

Chelsea boxing fans are steamed up over the second bout, which sends their favorite son, Al Zullo, against Gus Mell, the Canadian featherweight champion, in the main feature offered by the Goodwin A. C. at the Boston Garden Saturday night.

In their first engagement Zullo was a 1 to 5 shot to become Mell's sixth victim, but the aggressive little Chelsea man upset the dope by stopping the Canuck in the first round.

Zullo has trained faithfully for this return engagement. His Chelsea marching and chowder supporters state it's the first time Al has taken an impending fight serious.

★ ★ ★

The spectacular winning streak of Henry Chemel of Portland, Me., may be snapped at Mechanics Building next Thursday night when Chemel meets Reddy Evans of Hackensack, New Jersey, in a 10-round battle for the Callahan A. C.

Since last fall, Chemel has knocked out Larney Moore, Bob Wade, Johnny Ryan and Berlier Lanier. He's gained decisions over Langston, Dennis and Bert Lytell.

Mat Fan Dies at Arena's Lively Show

Overcome by excitement during the bouts, John Garron, 54, Main st., Gloucester, collapsed and died. His wife Lillian was at his side.

Lewis Laird downed Abe Zvonkin McGill 5:54. Ted Germaine was disqualified in a bout with Les Ruffin and Manuel Cortez drew with Sal Balbo in 30 minutes.

Walker, Rickey $8500 Apart

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—With the major league season less than three weeks off, several club owners still are faced with holdout problems.

What is probably the biggest name-holdout of them all is Fred (Dixie) Walker of the Brooklyn Dodgers, National League batting king, who is demanding a reported $22,500, an increase of approximately $8500 over what he was paid last year.

President Branch Rickey appeared as determined as Walker not to yield, with the result that Dixie may still be in his Birmingham, Ala., home when the season opens April 17.

Cleveland's Indians also are having their holdout headaches. Vice President Roger Peckinpaugh told Mickey Rocco, dissatisfied first baseman, that the Indians had quoted him their final salary and that the next move was up to him. Another dissatisfied tribesman is outfielder Jeff Heath.

The New York Yankees still have a stubborn holdout in shortstop Frank Crosetti, but first baseman Nick Etten and pitcher Bill Zuber although still unsigned, have arrived in camp.

Others who have not yet signed on the dotted line as a result of salary disagreements are Jim Tobin of no-hit fame and Stew Hofferth, Boston Braves; Al Gerheauser of the Philadelphia Phillies; Orval Grove and John Humphries, Chicago White Sox; Cliff Melton of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Vince DiMaggio, Pittsburgh Pirates.

Other training camp notes:

BROWNS — First baseman George McQuinn was struck on the knee by a ground ball and taken to a hospital for X-ray examination. Pitcher Jack Kramer, last of holdouts, agreed to terms.

WHITE SOX—Bill Dietrich, who won 16 games for the White Sox last year, and Earl Caldwell, 19-game winner purchased from Milwaukee, reported to manager Jimmy Dykes yesterday, to make 31 players in camp.

CUBS—Manager Charlie Grimm announced the sale of Japhet (Red) Lynn, who had a 5-4 record last year, to Los Angeles.

INDIANS—Pitcher Red Embree joined squad but Ambrose Palica said he expected an Army call soon.

PIRATES—Described in best physical shape since they started training in North three years ago. Bucs beat Muncie semi-pro nine, 11-0. Outfielder Frank Colman reported.

CARDINALS—Arrival of Marty Marion means recruit Al (Red) Schoendienst, who had been filling in at shortstop, will be shifted to either second or the outfield.

YANKEES—Manager Joe McCarthy announced that pitchers Walter Dubiel, Allen Gettel and Floyd Bevens will face Red Sox today.

GIANTS—Curtis Bay Coast Guard earned even split in two-game series, winning second contest, 15-10. First baseman Phil Weintraub made four hits, including homer, but big bat of Sid Gordon, former Giant, spelled doom for New Yorkers.

DODGERS—Trade of second baseman Barney Koch to Montreal for pitcher Vic Lombardi followed on heels of Whitow Wyatt sale to Phillies. Team dropped 10-inning game to West Point, 5-4.

Sisler Big Cog In Dodger Plans

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., March 29—Just what title George Sisler will hold in the postwar Dodger empire, planned by Branch Rickey, is unknown but it is already sure that the Hall of Fame first baseman will be a vital part of that organization.

Hired about a year ago as a scout, Sisler, quietly sitting on the sidelines behind dark glasses, seemed no more important than any of the other dozen or more gumshoes until a few days ago. Then it became apparent that whenever Rickey wanted information on any of the several score of unknowns here he asked George.

"Sisler is even more promising right now as a basebal lexecutive than he was as a player a year after I signed him out of the University of Michigan," said Rickey in explaining the Ask-George tenor of the camp.

However, the name of the former great Brown first baseman, whose .420 average is the all-time tops for the American League, appeared in few stories emanating from this camp until the other day when he started to coach Red Durrett, an outfielder, in the intricacies of playing first base.

Sisler widened his sphere of activities when accompanied by Rickey, he took Luis Olmo, Tom Brown and Durrett to the West Point field house for a private batting lesson while Leo Durocher directed the remaining members of thes quad here.

Rickey, a much better teacher than he was a batter, joined Sisler in trying to cure Olmo's marked weakness against sidearm pitching and to teach the youthful Brown to level his swing instead of lunging the bat with an upward motion.

Durrett is a much better batter than either the center fielder or the shortstop but Sisler is trying to teach him to get more effective use of his great power. Evidenily Durrett is being figured for the outfield if he should yield first base to Augie Galan or Howie Schultz.

Kenneth Stilley Joins Irish Staff

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 29 (INS)—Reconstruction of the badly riddled Notre Dame football coaching staff proceeded another step today with the addition of Kenneth L. Stilley as line coach. His appointment was announced by Hugh Devore, acting head football coach and athletic director.

Notre Dame, since the close of the 1944 season, has lost acting Head Coach Ed McKeever and Line Coaches Adam Walsh and Clem Crow, who have accepted head coaching jobs at other schools.

Tech, Cantab Nines Show Throne Class

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Leander MacDonald, sports supervisor of the Cambridge schools, makes no secret of the fact that he sincerely expects the Suburban League baseball championship to drop right into his lap this season in a two-way battle between Cambridge Latin and Rindge Tech for the crown that brings about an automatic invitation to the Eastern playoffs.

And there's on one, after taking a look at the prospects of the two schools, who would dare raise a voice in opposition to this expectation.

Both squads have moved outdoors after gymnasium tune-ups. The Cantabs are swinging into line daily at Russell Field, North Cambridge. The Technicians have taken over the new diamond at Fresh Pond, Cambridge. They'll get together for their first meeting in their second tests of the season for the first important schoolboy clash of the spring campaign.

At Russell Field, Coach Sonny Foley has four full-fledged veterans as the backbone of his squad, headed by southpaw Ed Leary, being touted as the most promising pitcher in scholastic ranks this season. Leary's slants will be handled by Pat Cardillo, co-captain. The dependable Tony Frasca, co-captain, will be at short with his side-kick, Ray Foley, at third base.

Tentative plans for filling out the starting line-up have Wally Lyons, football captain, at first base; George Costa at second and Jimmy Linehan, Fran Heffernan and Kenny Lyons, brother of Wally, in the outfield. That may be the line-up when the Cantabs take the field against Watertown, April 16, for their opener.

For reserve pitching strength, Coach Foley will have the speedy Joe Winn and Frasca. Moving the versatile Frasca to the mound will involve a shift sending Costa to short, Kenny Lyons into second base and pitcher Leary to the outfield. And if Leary's hitting is up to par, he may take over a garden spot regularly when not tossing his southpaw trickery at the opposition.

Coach Bill McLaughlin is off to a swell start in moulding a pitching staff with the veteran Dick Hansen, another southpaw, ready to take his place with Rindge's first stringers. But he'll still have to dig up talent to take over the mound for other spots and that's where he's running into his biggest problem.

The remainder of the Technician squad is packed with power. Dick Zolontowski will be back as catcher to bring along any new pitching finds. The infield will be strengthened with the return of Augie Messuri to shortstop, to fill out what might be an all hockey infield. It's possible that Coach McLaughlin will have Ray Picard at first, Dick Kelley at second and Bill Bolduc at third—all members of the ice team.

In the outfield, Tech will have Pete Messuri, Tony Arena, George Whitney, Dick Anderson and Bud Haley. All have had experience in league competition.

Bert La Brucherie New California Coach

LOS ANGELES, March 29 (AP)—Bert F. La Brucherie, Los Angeles high school coach, last night was appointed football coach at University of California at Los Angeles, succeeding Edwin C. (Babe) Horrell, who resigned March 1.

Arkansas Sends Four Best Pures

In charge of Lt. John M. Bullitt, U. S. Army, who will box in the 135 pounds class, a team of four of the best amateur mitt artists in the Arkansas Association are on their way to Boston from Little Rock, in the foothills of the Ozarks, for the big national tournament, the "Championship of Champions," to be staged at Boston Garden next Monday and Tuesday.

Not since Warren Kinney came out of Arkansas to win the national heavyweight title back in 1942 has that section of the nation sent such a strong aggregation to this tournament.

Bullitt, nephew of the former United States ambassador to France, is a Harvard graduate, and won the Mass. State 135 pounds championship in 1941. The former Harvard "redhead," coached by Henry Lamar, was one of the finest looking lightweight prospects uncovered in these parts in many years.

Now he is in the U. S. Army but still continues to retain his interest in boxing, and reports from Little Rock indicate that Bullitt is ready to go on to a national victory in Boston next week.

The other members of the Arkansas team are Carl Williams, a stiff punching bantamweight; Travis Maxie, welterweight, and Don Arnold, a rugged, two-fisted, hard-hitting light heavyweight.
